Changeis, Inc. Selected for Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) Research and Development Management Support Services Task Order Award

Arlington, VA, May 2, 2022

Changeis Inc., a leading management consulting and technology services firm, today announced that it has been awarded a task order through eFAST, the FAA's multi-year Master Ordering Agreement (MOA). The awarded task order will allow Changeis to support the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) Research and Development Management function. Changeis will provide expertise for execution of the Administrator's corporate Research, Engineering and Development (RE&D) planning and budget formulation process, facilitation of aviation research, and development of communication and outreach initiatives.

"We are pleased to be awarded this work and expand our support for the FAA's Research and Development Management function. Our expertise will help the FAA integrate innovative solutions into the National Airspace System while continuing to maintain the safest, most dynamic, and most efficient airspace system in the world."

Varun Malhotra, Executive Vice President, Changeis, Inc.

"This is an exciting new opportunity for our Mission Support Community of Practice, bringing our Program and Project Management expertise to bear in support of the FAA's William J. Hughes Technical Center in the important mission of Research and Development for our National Airspace System. We are proud to be selected for this responsibility!"

Brian Pickerall, Senior Vice President, Changeis, Inc.
