AWS Showcases Changeis' FAA Supply Chain Transformation Case Study

Arlington, VA, October 04, 2023

Changeis, Inc., a leading enterprise transformation services firm, announced today that Amazon Web Services (AWS) has released a video case study showcasing the transformative partnership between Changeis and AWS and their collaborative efforts to enhance the mission effectiveness of the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA).

Key points from the case study include:

- The collaboration between Changeis and AWS is meticulously designed to deliver transformative solutions to the FAA, focusing on implementing changes with speed and efficiency to ensure mission excellence.
- Using AWS technology and tools, Changeis successfully implemented a continuous integration and delivery pipeline for the FAA, automating tests and accomplishing a major ERP system upgrade in just 18 hours.
- Understanding the mission impact and ensuring technical excellence are underscored as key considerations when migrating to the cloud in the public sector.

“We highly value our Advanced Tier Services partnership with Amazon Web Services (AWS). Collaboration on this impactful project allowed for modernization of this essential aviation infrastructure. The agility and innovation of AWS cloud technologies were crucial enablers for us to deliver an optimized, cost-efficient system that improves support for critical FAA operations.”
